

disrupt, verb, intrans.

To throw into disorder, to misbehave.

1859, Alfred Tennyson, *Tennyson's
Guinevere and Other Poems*:

“To make a disruption in the Table Round/
Of Arthur and to splinter it into feuds”