DH Type 1

"a community united not by objects of study but by a set of practices: text encoding, archive creation, data analysis, historical GIS, 3D modeling, and visualization."

DH Type 2

"humanistic inquiry that relates to the digital in some unspecified way that often cannot be articulated by its so-called practitioners."